

Chinese Tongs in Murder Feuds

Attempts to Have Peace Declared Following Murders in Many Places—Neutrals in New York's Chinatown Post Their Names for Safety.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Oct. 13.—Feudists of the On Leong and Hip Sing Tongs in the 'larger cities kept their eyes on New York's Chinatown, and their hands on their pistols today, waiting for another conference that might result in the signing of a peace treaty.

With the collapse here of the first conference, arranged by Deputy Police Commissioner Carleton Simon, the feud continued unabated. Thus far it has resulted in murders and shootings in New York, Boston, Pittsburgh, Chicago and the New suburbs in New Jersey.

Business was at a standstill today in the Chinese quarters here around Chatham Square.

Another murder—this one over the Hudson in New Jersey—served to remind Chinatown that the Hip Sing and On Leong pistol men had not yet vented all their fury on each other.

Following the assassination of a Chinese thought to have been C. Sam whose body with bullet wounds in the chest and strands of rope knotted about his throat was found in a road near New Arlington, N. J., Newark police under the leadership of Commissioner Simon descended on Newark's Chinatown and raided every house in two blocks.

Five caught in that round up were held on charges of carrying concealed weapons.

Newark's Chinese district was thrown into panic when a touring car filled with Chinese whirled into the neighborhood. Instantly police were flooded with telephone calls from residents fearing the men were New York gunmen. When police arrived the car had vanished.

Detectives circulating about the Chatham Square New York, were kept busy searching Orientals. One was arrested and his pistol taken from him.

The terrorized residents who fear both tongs are posting their names on bulletin boards in Pell street, protesting their neutrality in the feud.

So serious has the tong war become that the Chinese embassy in Washington has taken cognizance of it. Zhang Ling Chang, Chinese consul at the capital, was in New York today, arranging with Commissioner Simon for another truce parley tomorrow.

Woman On Trial Who Urged Lover To Kill Husband

State Demands Death Penalty for Wife Who May Set Up Husband's Alleged Brutality in Mitigation—Lover Has Been Convicted.

MRS. HARVEY WILLOW & DAUGHTER & RALPH SHADEL

Middleburg, Pa., Oct. 13.—In a low voice and with eyes downcast, Mrs. Anne Willow, charged with first degree murder in connection with the slaying of her husband, Harvey Willow, pleaded not guilty, to the indictment before Judge Miles J. Potter today. Selection of a jury was immediately begun.

While the woman was making her plea, her seven year old daughter, Ida, sat in the court room, her big blue eyes filled with tears. The defendant wept when her son, Glenn, 11, came into court.

Mrs. Willow is alleged to have instigated Ralph Shadel, her eighteen year old sweetheart, to shoot her husband while they were hunting in the woods.

Indicted for first degree murder by a grand jury last Monday, the woman, through her counsel, chose a separate trial rather than stand jointly with her youthful lover. Shadel has been convicted of second degree murder and soon will begin his twenty year sentence in Eastern Penitentiary. He has a chance of being released for good behavior at the end of ten years.

Aroused by the brutality of the murder of Harvey Willow by Shadel last December, the entire county followed with interest the progress of the boy's trial. But it was an interest tinged with pity—for a mere boy who was continuously pictured as a slave to the woman's fascinations.

In direct contrast is the attitude of the country folk today. Few have compassion on the wife who proved unfaithful—fewer still on the woman whose confession admits she urged Ralph to get rid of him—her husband. Even her parents, after her confession, refused to have anything to do with her. Since, however, they have forgiven and have raised a fund to help pay the expense of their daughter's defense.

As in Shadel's trial, a confession will be the trump card of the prosecution. The boy's signed admission of the clandestine meetings and the impassioned love affair which terminated in the slaying, was admitted as evidence. District Attorney Arthur K. Miller said he has a similar confession from Mrs. Willow.

Fear and confinement have left their mark on the woman. Her once full cheeks are now drawn and pale. Her hysterical weeping shows plainly in her eyes. Her rather large features are emphasized by her black bobbed hair. She has had her hair cut since her arrest.

Counsel for the woman refused today to give the slightest intimation of how they hope to save the woman from the electric chair. The alleged brutality of Harvey Willow, it is expected, will be set forth as a mitigating circumstance.

District Attorney Miller said that in addition to the woman's confession he may call her young lover, Ralph Shadel, to testify against her.

Edinger Urges Public to Study Zone Ordinances

Every Contingency That May Arise Covered in Tentative Ordinance Now On File At City Hall, Says Its Author.

Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 13, 1924.

Editor Kingston Freeman:
Will you allow me to use your valuable columns to try to impress upon the public the importance of inspecting and carefully reading the two zoning ordinances now on file with the City Clerk at the City Hall? I am well aware of the difficulty involved in getting the average taxpayer and large property owner to take an interest in such matters, and I hope you will allow me space to make an appeal for aid and encouragement.

In this instance it is of the greatest importance that property owners and tax payers generally spare a little time and visit the city clerk's office during the period allowed and register such suggestions after a careful reading of both ordinances and leave with the city clerk an acknowledgment of which the ordinances they deem most beneficial. These suggestions if approved by the common council will be adopted and will relieve to a certain extent, the responsibility of the author, which attaches of necessity to so important a matter. For thirty days you will have the opportunity to do this and I hope for the credit and benefit of our city you will do so.

Zoning a city is always a very important and dangerous matter and is made doubly so in a city like Kingston where the matter has been postponed so long and the author of the so-called tentative or "Edinger ordinance" would be highly gratified if the public would respond to the invitation extended and examine and read carefully both ordinances.

So far as the tentative or "Edinger Ordinance" is concerned I wish to state to the public that on or about January 4th, 1924, I was honored by Mayor Block, instructed me to furnish a tentative zoning ordinance for the City of Kingston, and as I have the honor of being the Chairman of the Committee on Laws and Rules and also Chairman of the Zoning Committee I immediately proceeded to gather data for the same. My first step was to secure the zoning ordinances of as many cities as possible and in due time I had secured 28 zoning ordinances from cities in New York state and other states, together with maps, etc.

These ordinances I studied carefully and analyzed and from each I obtained more or less valuable data for the ordinance submitted. This occupied every moment of the time I could spare from my other duties, until July 1st, 1924. After obtaining expert legal advice and re-arranging and compiling several ordinances I submitted my tentative ordinance to the mayor and corporation council and the same is now open for public inspection at the city hall for 30 days. I would also suggest and invite the inspection of the legal fraternity of the city to read the ordinance and make such suggestions as seem important. I would also be grateful to the newspaper for any help by suggestion or criticism that they feel willing to extend as the matter is of the greatest importance to the city for all time. It will undoubtedly be conceded that zoning especially when it has been delayed to such a late day as has been the case in Kingston must in consequence be more drastic than if it had been attempted to at an earlier period in Kingston's history. In drawing the tentative ordinance I have endeavored, to provide for the future of Kingston, realizing that the city will grow and expand, and if so, every contingency that may arise in the future is covered in the tentative ordinance.

I am anxious to have this ordinance thoroughly understood by the property owners of the city and hope for a speedy outcome in order to forestall any further encroachments upon property owners as has been manifested in the past.

U. G. EDINGER,
Chairman of Committee on Zoning.

Zeppelin Over Atlantic; Shenandoah Meets Delay

Giant German Airship Passes Azores on Way to America, Following Course Taken by Columbus—United States Dirigible Shenandoah Delayed by Damage Caused by Storm.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Horta, Azores, Oct. 13.—The ZR-3 is now over the Atlantic having travelled more than 1,700 miles since leaving Friedrichshafen, Germany, yesterday morning.

Following Course of Columbus.
Friedrichshafen, Oct. 13.—The Zeppelin ZR-3 was well west of the Azores this afternoon speeding westward toward the United States, according to wireless advices picked up here.

After leaving the European coast line the airship turned straight for the American coast, keeping in constant wireless communication for weather reports. Radio advices forecast bad weather in mid-Atlantic but as last reports it had not interfered with the progress of the Giant dirigible.

Far above the very course followed by Christopher Columbus in his tiny wooden craft, the big air cruiser is blazing an air trail which was started on the 432nd anniversary of the completion of Columbus' epochal voyage.

Storm May Cause Delay.
Washington, Oct. 13.—A storm of considerable intensity in mid-Atlantic, which will be encountered by the ZR-3 is expected to prevent the airship from reaching the United States before Thursday, the navy department announced today.

A special weather report wirelessly from the ZR-3 by the navy department at 11 a. m., said that a storm south of Greenland was moving northeastward and that there was an area of low pressure southwestward to Bermuda.

Barometric pressure, the report said, is still high from Quebec southward to Florida.

The cruiser Milwaukee is now en route to a position 450 miles south of Halifax, to act as a relay station for messages to and from the ZR-3. The Milwaukee was stationed 250 miles east of Halifax, but the shift became necessary when the commander of the ZR-3 decided to take the southern trip across the Atlantic.

The navy department announced that when the ZR-3 left her station in Germany the Zeppelin Company, builders of the dirigible, gave a custody receipt for the vessel to the German government. When the ship arrives at Lakehurst she will be examined by a board of officers and will be put through what the navy department calls "acceptance tests."

A detailed report on the condition of the ship after these tests will then be submitted to the secretary of the navy, who in turn will advise the state department of the acceptance of the vessel. The state department then will give a receipt for the airship to the German government.

Speed Limit 76 Miles.
Officials of the navy bureau of aeronautics said it would be impossible for the ZR-3 to make the voyage from Europe to Lakehurst, N. J., a distance of approximately 5,000 miles in sixty hours, as the speed of the ship was limited to 76 miles an hour and should have to fight unfavorable winds a part of the trip.

Ready at Lakehurst.
Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 13.—The crew of the naval air station here were "standing by" today for the arrival of the dirigible ZR-3 on Wednesday from Friedrichshafen, Germany. Four hundred sailors and marines are ready to seize the mooring lines of the world's largest rigid airship and "warp" her into her hangar.

After the ZR-3 become an official part of the United States air navy she will make a trans-oceanic flight, probably to England some time before Christmas, according to Lieutenant Commander Joseph M. Deem, executive officer at the Lakehurst aviation field. As soon as the huge airship has been refilled with helium to replace the inflammable hydrogen she now contains she will cruise over the country with passengers and mails in a number of test flights. Commander Deem said.

The hangar which will shelter the ZR-3 after her arrival was formerly the hall for the dirigible Shenandoah.

Commander Maurice R. Pierce, acting commandant of the naval air station here, said the ZR-3 probably would sight the American coast somewhere in the Carolinas, and then follow the shoreline northward to Lakehurst.

Zeppelin Not Dry on Her Trans-Atlantic Voyage

Berlin, Oct. 13.—All stories to the effect that the ZR-3 was "dry" on her trans-Atlantic voyage were disproved by monster advertisements in the German newspapers today of champagne firms boasting that the dirigible carried cases of their brands of wine. In this case, the "dry" only mean dry champagne.

Found Opium in Rondout Creek

James Delaney Had Two Bottles of Opium on His Person When Arrested but He Had Found Them Five Years Ago—Other Cases in Police Court.

James Delaney, better known to the police as "Toots," was arrested Sunday by Policeman Entrott, and when searched at police headquarters two bottles containing opium tablets were found on him. This morning before Delaney was arraigned before Judge Harry E. Schirick in police court, he was questioned by Dr. Daniel Connelly, city health officer, and Police Sergeant Hanley, and it developed that Delaney had obtained the opium from a handbag he found floating in the Rondout creek about five years ago. An examination of the bottles by Dr. Connelly disclosed the fact that Delaney was telling the truth, and for that reason a charge of having narcotics on his person was not lodged against him. He was arraigned before Judge Schirick on a charge of public intoxication to which he pleaded guilty, and was fined $10.

Louis Ludwig and Jake Wasick, both Russians, were arrested as suspicious persons early Sunday morning by Officers Harman and Fatum. They were walking down Broadway peering in store windows and had tried the door of one store, but found it locked. They explained that they had come to Kingston from Albany as they understood they had a chance of obtaining a job on the section gang of the West Shore railroad. They were given the opportunity to seek the job with the warning that if unsuccessful they should leave Kingston.

Harry Hawkins of Sleightsburgh was arrested on the Strand Sunday morning by Officer Dempsey who found Harry with a heavy load of wet goods on board. Hawkins, who has not appeared in court in a year on a charge of public intoxication, was fined $5 and told to report daily for the balance of the week to City Marshal Arthur Rice.

John Wesolowski was arrested by Officer Urban Healey on Hasbrouck avenue Saturday evening on a charge of using indecent language. He pleaded not guilty and the hearing was adjourned to Tuesday.

Gilbert Dougherty, arrested by Officer Keuhn, was fined $5 for public intoxication.

George Every of the Boulevard, arrested Saturday night by Castor Proprietor of Ulster Park on a charge of reckless driving in colliding with Proprietor's car parked on Cedar street, gave bail for his appearance later.

Peter Brezitis of Glaseco was arrested at the West Shore station Sunday by Officer Tierney of the railroad police force, and later when arraigned before Judge Groves on a charge of public intoxication pleaded guilty and was fined $5.

Sloop Missing in North Atlantic
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Halifax, N. S., Oct. 13.—Radio messages broadcast along the coast of Nova Scotia and telegraph inquiries at ports which might have received information have brought no news of the sloop Lief Erickson, with William W. Nutting, New York editor, and his three companions, who left Reykjavik, Iceland, for Baddeck, Cape Breton, and have not been heard from since.

The little sloop is now a month overdue. A card received from Nutting from Reykjavik August 9 was the last word from any of the party. It is hoped the party may have put into some out of the way point on the coast of Newfoundland for shelter.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Oct. 13.—The supreme court of the United States today refused to interfere to prevent punishment of striking railroad employees of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad who deserted a train in the alkali plains of Arizona in the strike of 1922, leaving the passengers to suffer from heat and drought.

The train crew of six that deserted near Needles, Arizona, with R. H. Clements, strike committee chairman, and John Streilein, his assistant, were fined $1,250 each and committed to jail until the fine was paid.

The men claimed their right to strike or quit work, because of defective locomotive and cars and presence of armed railroad guards.

Mail Robber May Be Murderer

Gerald Chapman, Escaped Convict, Who Made $1,500,000 Haul in New York, Believed to Have Killed Policeman While Robbing Department Store.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Oct. 13.—The eyes of every policeman in New York and New England were alert today for Gerald Chapman, million dollar mail thief hunted for a year without success since he escaped from the Federal penitentiary in Atlanta, Ga.

The conviction among authorities that he is roaming New England arose with the murder yesterday in New Britain, Conn., of a policeman, said to have been assassinated by the escaped convict. So certain were they that this was Chapman that details on motorcycles patrolled suburban roads in Connecticut and Massachusetts, looking for him.

A girl of Springfield, Mass., well known to Chapman and police, was being hunted on the assumption that he accompanied the robber into New Britain where he was looting the safe of a department store when a policeman, James Skelly, intruded and was shot to death.

Although Skelly's companions were positive the man they saw fleeing the store corresponded in every detail to the description of Chapman, they pointed also to the workmanship of the attempted burglary as proof that it was of a calibre of which only a graduate criminal like Chapman was capable.

Mirrors had been set over the safe on which the murderer was working to give him a clear view of the rear; and thus frustrate approach. The spring locks on different doors forced to flee all had been set with precision foreign to bungling amateurs.

A man caught running from the store neighborhood, who said he was Walter E. Shean, of Springfield, Mass., insisted, according to police, that the burglar who shot Skelly was Chapman.

Chapman was sent to Atlanta after his $1,500,000 mail robbery in downtown New York three years ago.

100 VOTERS DIDN'T KNOW NEW REGISTRY PLACE

As the polling place for the voters in the second district of the Twelfth ward, this city, has been changed from the garage of M. H. Herzog, 171 Wall street, to the garage of William P. Glass, 56 Emerson street, near Main street, it will be well for those voting in that district who have not registered, to bear in mind the new location. Saturday, the second day of registration, over one hundred voters called at the Herzog garage to register, only to learn that the registry place had been changed. Friday and Saturday of this week are the two last days to register and electors who fail to do so on either of those days cannot vote at the general election, November 4.

confusion at the docks before any properly maritime expedition can set forth, a lively disagreement on board the pirate ship, a beautiful setting in the woods, a fight near the stockade, the pirate ship at sea in a severe storm while a fight on board prevents any exhibition of seamanship, and two final scenes on the island, the last giving Mr. Sarg unusual opportunity to display his ability in lighting and scenic effect as well as dramatic action.Although there will be no rum, there will be much "Yo, Ho," and "Dead men's chests."From among the many thousands who saw the dog fight in Tony Sarg's Marionette version of Rip Van Winkle have come scores of letters to Mr.
Sarg commenting upon the "gorgeous fight." Such letters please Mr. Sarg, as a matter of course, and he has prepared a series of hand-to-hand, sword and bludgeon, marlin spike, and other physical clashes in his new Treasure Island, which he promises will surpass any of those presented in the popular Rip or even those of Don Quixote.Tickets are now in circulation throughout Kingston. They may be obtained from almost any member of the K. H. S. Athletic Association.

THE DIGNITY OF VELVET.

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

In discussing the trend clothes are taking this fall, with several who have practical experience in outfitting smart women, it is unreservedly stated that formal dresses are having more success than for several seasons.The continued popularity of crepe satin has not interfered with progress made by such novelty fabrics as printed velvet, rich gold cloth of the dull green caste known as Roman, or of all sorts of novelties, many of which even for street wear have interest threads in their construction.The preference according to most, appears to be for gowns of a softer development—a result made possible by jabots and flounces, flares and tiers and tunics.Mirror and rayon velvet, as well as the other pile type, is being ordered by women who like dignity in their clothes, although the frock sketched, opening over a Roman gold vest and bordered with fur, while dignified, can hardly be termed mature. Its shortness alone expresses youth.While sleeveless dresses, especially when they are a part of the ensemble, are being worn, the dress with long sleeves is well liked. Some peasant sleeves gathered into armhole and bordered with fur, for, after all, smart though it is, one wears of the long tight sleeve, and welcomes a change.Lanvin, an advocate of sleeves which are full below the elbow, is not alone this season in sponsoring them.

Say Robber Is Springfield Man

Companion of Chapman, Escaped Convict, in Connecticut Robbery Said to Come from Massachusetts.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New Britain, Conn., Oct. 13.—Arrested under the name of George B. Clark, which he insisted is his right name, Walter Shean, of Springfield, Mass., was today bound over for trial in the superior court at Hartford on a charge of aiding and abetting Gerald Chapman in the murder of Policeman James Skelly here Sunday morning. Shean will be removed under heavy guard to the Hartford jail in the near future, meanwhile being locked in a cell here with armed officers watching his every move.

There was no counsel for Shean who, haggard but outwardly calm, sat listening to the testimony of seven policemen who were with or near Officer Skelly when he was shot, and to the story of Henry Johnson, a very stable hostler, whose vigilance led to the surprising of the two men robbing the dry goods store of Davidson and Leventhal here.

According to the police, Shean, who was identified definitely because of a name engraved on his watch, and who later asked the police to get in touch with Edward Emmons of this city, an uncle, did not say Policeman Skelly although the policeman so declared just before he died. Checking matters up carefully they found that Policeman Leibler and Malona had arrested Shean almost at the very instant Skelly was shot. Henry Johnson, watching in his alley saw Shean run from the store with a brief case in hand, just as the police appeared. Johnson shouted "get that man" and Leibler and Malona, with drawn revolvers seized Shean and handcuffed him. The rest of the police squad passed into the store.

Shean declared during the night, according to the police, he became acquainted with Chapman last June. Chapman had a box in the Springfield post office, he said, and near the box was hung a poster bearing Chapman's picture and relating his escape from a Federal prison. Shean and Chapman often were together near the picture, he declared.

Unofficially it is said that Shean's family in Springfield will not attempt to aid him. Shean, who is 39 years old, is said to have been in so many scrapes previously that the family have decided he must now go alone. Emmons, for whom Shean asked after his arrest yesterday, is said to be a brother of Shean's mother. Shean has a wife in New York from whom he has been separated.

Chapman has disappeared as completely as though the earth swallowed him, police here say. From nearly every portion of the state alleged chases have come, all being worthless. Every member of the state force of over 100 troopers is on duty and has been since the murder, watching automobiles, railroad trains and penetrating lonely roads. The coast also has been guarded. When Chapman next appears, police believe, it will be a point far distant from this city.

CARELESSLY LIGHTED MATCH CAUSES HOUSE FIRE

The fire department was called to the house of Alfred Smith at No. 25 Second avenue, about 9:30 o'clock Sunday evening for a fire in a cellarway which was extinguished with slight damage. Someone in the house had gone to the cellar and at the head of the stairs had struck a match. A coat hanging in the cellarway caught fire from the match, but was not noticed at the time and smoldered before breaking out into flame.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

The funeral of the late John J. Ostrander, who died on Tuesday, October 7, at the home of his niece, Mrs. Peter A. Black, at Port Ewen, was held on Friday afternoon, October 10, at 2:30 o'clock from her residence and was largely attended. The services were conducted by the Rev. C. H. Polhemus, a former pastor of the Bloomington Reformed Church. For nearly sixty years Mr. Ostrander was an active member of the Bloomington and St. Remy Reformed Churches, serving as deacon or elder for nearly that entire time. Mr. Ostrander was born in the old Ostrander homestead in the town of Esopus on January 4, 1844, and resided there for a number of years. Later he removed to Bloomington, in the town of Rosendale, where he remained until a few years ago when he went to Port Ewen to reside with his niece, Mrs. Peter A. Black. His daughter, with whom he had always resided previously, was a son of John Ostrander and Ann Eliza LeFevre, being of Holland Dutch descent on his father's side and of French Huguenot descent from his mother, whose ancestors were among the Patenotes of New Paltz. Mr. Ostrander was the last of a family of six children and is survived by his niece, Mrs. Peter A. Black, with whom he made his home, and several other nieces and nephews. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful in design, expressive of the high esteem in which he was held. Interment was in the family plot in St. Remy Cemetery, by the side of his brother, with whom he was closely associated for so many years.

At the Theaters.

Heralded as the greatest drama ever filmed, Frank Lloyd's production of "The Sea Hawk," a First National picture version of the popular novel by Rafael Sabatini, will be screened this evening at the Orpheum, and will continue to be shown every day this week. Filmed for the most part on the sea on four ships of Sixteenth Century design, rowed by hundreds of galley slaves, and replete with stirring action and sacrifice and romance, "The Sea Hawk," like Mr. Lloyd's first independent production, "Black Oxen," is said to be a decided innovation in photography. Several night battles between two large ancient ships and a number of daylight encounters between Spanish and Moorish buccannering craft are among the big scenes of "The Sea Hawk." An entire Algerian village, with slave markets, four gigantic ships, two of them rowed by galley slaves at the oars, an English castle and numerous large interior settings have been necessary to give "The Sea Hawk" a proper background.

At the Auditorium today, "Babitt," from the great American novel by Sinclair Lewis, author of "Main Street." In "Babitt" Warner Brothers present a rare good picture from a rare good novel. A story that finds its parallel in every town, city and hamlet. Played by a cast of screen notables.

TEACHERS AND THE "ROD."

"He that spareth the rod hateth his son," declared Solomon, and all down through the centuries corporal punishment for the wayward or disobedient child has been preached and practiced as necessary for the child's lasting welfare. In more recent times the old method has been largely abandoned even where it is not theoretically condemned—with the results that are with us, desirable or deplorable according to variation of view. Considering what dominant opinion now appears to be in this country, it is surprising to get the recent news from the town of Elmford, N. Y., only a few miles from the metropolis. The school board there decided by a majority of one that "there shall not be any more beating with a rubber hose of the pupils by the teachers." Thereupon the superintendent of schools declared that he would resign, 13 of his 23 subordinates said they would go with him, and a temporary suspension of the whole local school system is reported as threatened.

Such teachers are "survivals of another age," comments the New York Times, which says further that "one could imagine worse calamities for a town than the departure from it of all teachers with notions so antiquated." One could, of course, and yet it would remain true that children, for their own good as well as for order at home and in school, must be controlled and made to obey. If this can be done without corporal punishment, well and good, but experience has shown that in most cases it cannot be done without punishment in some form. The man or woman who has not been effectively restrained in childhood faces a fight all the harder to govern himself or herself in adult life.

EXIT PREMIER MacDONALD.

It seems a pity that Premier MacDonald allowed a rich friend to "show his automobile" with a large slice of stock in a biscuit factory and that the King was induced to confer knighthood on the same rich friend. Such quite human but perilous adventures are apt to become known and no doubt this one was effectively employed in bringing about the fall of Great Britain's first Labor government after nine months of remarkable administration. The chief charge against the Labor government was "Communist sedition," which, according to report had little basis in fact. MacDonald is said to have lacked sympathy for some of his party's theories and to have done little toward putting them in practice. It was the field of foreign affairs that mainly interested him, and in this field his sincerity, earnestness and open methods caused him to make his mark.

An intelligent summary of his effort in this field reads: "Ramsay MacDonald can point to a record of achievement in the sphere of foreign affairs that insures his place in history no matter what the future may have in store for him. He succeeded in a task that broke the back of Lloyd-George and two Conservative Prime Ministers. He restored cooperation between Great Britain and France. He made a notable contribution to the Dawes settlement affecting Germany. He crowned his efforts by his recent activities at Geneva, where his personal intervention, side by side with Herriot of France, was the main factor in the adoption of the great protocol of arbitration and international law that has made of the League of Nations a living and glowing thing."

The remedy that the League of Nations is now proposing to end war differs in no essential respect from that contained in the league covenant. In the last analysis of both plans, peace by force is relied upon to prevent war. Aggression is defined, and nations which undertake to act according to that definition are to be forced into submission by concerted action of the others. World history attests to the failure of every attempt to enforce peace. Only through better understanding between peoples and their governments can permanent peace be attained. That is the guiding policy of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, with which are associated some of the foremost workers for world peace in this country. That has also been the spirit with which our own foreign relations have been conducted by the Republican administration. Threat of force has had no part in the agreements obtained between Chile and Peru, among the five Central American Republics, or among the nine world powers assembled in the Washington Armaments Conference. Mutual and voluntary concessions were made which guarantee the permanence of those undertakings far beyond what any threat of force could have accomplished.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

REDUCING IN A SIMPLE MANNER.

You may be carrying a little more weight than you think is right for your age, and you decide to try and reduce your flesh somewhat.

This in itself is a good move, because it shows that your personal appearance means something to you, or perhaps even more to your family.

This very interest then that you show will be a big help in the reducing process, because this process may be a prolonged one.

Now as I've said before, the only way you can put on weight is by the food you eat, and likewise the method of reducing weight is in reducing your food intake, particularly certain kinds of foods.

The point to remember always, is that your body will still need all the different kinds of foods.

You will be tempted to avoid starches and fats because they put on fat, but these foods are just as essential to the body as the other kinds.

It is rather distressing to see the results of dieting on the faces of men and women.

In an effort to get quick results they actually do without enough food to maintain their strength.

Some have the idea that meats and eggs will clog their kidneys and liver, and abstain almost entirely from these foods also.

What is the result? Well the first thing you notice about them is the pinched, "old" appearance of the face.

The eyes lack lustre, the shoulders droop, there is a general appearance of weakness, and to all intents and purposes that person is old.

Now if you are in good health, but weigh twenty pounds over the average, there is only one sensible way to handle the matter.

Just sit down and go over in your mind, or with pencil and paper, your regular diet for perhaps the preceding week.

Cut down on your sugar, bread, and potatoes say twenty-five per cent and your meats, liquids, and vegetables about twenty per cent.

Try this for one month.

If you find at the end of the month that you have lost seven or eight pounds, and feel a little weak, just decrease the intake by about one-half the above percentages, that is about fifteen and ten per cent.

Three or four pounds a month is a sufficient rate of reduction.

If cutting down your intake twenty-five, and twenty per cent, only makes a difference of one to two pounds a month, then there is only one thing you can do.

You'll have to go to work, or take some exercise.

WHY Insects Are Able to Endure Intense Heat

Tolerance of heat to a most astonishing degree by insects that live in deserts is indicated by the results of researches published at London in the "Proceedings of the Royal Society," by P. A. Buxton. Observing insects in the deserts of Palestine, he found some species active and cheerful when the mid-summer sun raised the temperature of the sand to 140 degrees Fahrenheit. Temperatures of the insects themselves were also measured, and were found to be lower than might have been expected, due probably to evaporation of water—though how the insects get the water to replace evaporation losses still remains a question. Mr. Buxton also found that the color of the insects had considerable influence on the body temperature; dark specimens were frequently eight or ten degrees warmer than their lighter-colored brethren. One possible source of water in the desert is suggested in the same research. The scanty plant growth in these regions has high powers of absorption through the leaves and stems, and can thus gather in much water from the dew that fall at night, even in the desert. Fragments of plant material with their absorbed water are eaten by the insects, which in turn become a source not only of food, but also of water for birds, lizards, and other animals.

Why Bad Eating Habits Have Stunted Growth

People of America have lost two inches in stature since the Civil war, according to Dr. John Harvey Kellogg, dietitian.

"Stunted growth is resulting from our modern 'eat and run' habits," Doctor Kellogg said. "The American public gives little or no thought to the proper consumption of food. Our modern business activities are so hurried and intense as to allow no consideration for the most important element of healthful living, the proper selection and careful mastication of food consumed."

"The stature of the American people has dropped two inches in the last sixty years, due to the modern American custom of bolting our food like pythons."

"Food is fuel to the body, and poor fuel means a deficient output of energy just as too much chokes the fire of health and retards normal development."

"A height in stature of over six feet prevailed in the early sixties. Today the average normal stature of the American people is much below six feet, a condition attributable to our modern quick lunch counters and hurried mode of living."

Why She Persevered

The Woman Who Sees spent the Fourth in one of the many nearby suburban towns where the powers that be had not ordained a safe and sane observance of the nation's birthday. In consequence there was an abundance of all kinds of crackers, torpedoes and even snappers. There was also in the family of the woman's friend a small girl aged five and rather timid. Time and again she essayed to light a small cracker, but courage failed; indeed she found it impossible to muster enough fortitude to hold even a sparkler when lighted. Finally the woman said: "But, my dear, why do you make the effort if you have so much fear? Let the others have the fun of the noise and the firing and you watch. To which the young patriot made answer: 'I would like to do that, but you know, I'm afraid if I do not fire off just a few George Washingtons won't like it.'—New York Sun.

Why Fence Was Valued

Did you ever have a fence? One that went all around your home and had a big gate at the front and a little gate always broken from your swinging on it? And did you ever pretend that everything inside the fence was your kingdom and that the neighbor's chickens and his cat were sneaking foreign thieves who would stoop even to stealing radishes out of your father's garden and your own cat's mice out of your woodshed?

There is something alluring about a house inclosed by a fence and something comfortable about living in that house. There is a sense of dominion which only a fence can give and also an attitude of dignity and restraint which apparently the world has lost.

For fences have gone out of style and now the neighbor's chickens board regularly on your father's garden patch, and the neighbor's cat and your cat pool the few mice they catch in your garage.—Exchange.

Why She Was Irritated

Phyllis—Yes, she was furious about the way her marriage was reported. Mary—Why, did it allude to her age? Phyllis—Indirectly. It stated that Miss Brown and Mr. Wallace were married, the latter being a well-known collector of antiques.

Why It Went On

Aunt Lucy—I saw Mr. Huggins kissing you for ten minutes while he was saying good night. Why didn't you make him stop? Phyllis—Why, I never thought of that.

Why It Was Broken Off

Muriel—I hear you've broken off your engagement to Dick. Alice—Yes, he was becoming a nuisance—he wanted to get married!—London Mail.

Original Tattooed Men

It is impossible to say when and where the custom of tattooing began, but it is of ancient origin. In the tombs near Thebes were found painted representations of white men with tattooed bodies, and in his commentaries Caesar writes of Britons being tattooed.

Want Baseball Scandal Reopened

Critics of National Game. Want Recent Bribery Scandal Reopened or O'Connell's Testimony Made Public—O'Connell's Whereabouts Unknown.

(By Davis J. Walsh.)

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Oct. 13.—By tacit rather than spoken agreement, eastern sport critics decided during the world series to force a showdown from organized baseball on the evidence they feel has been withheld from them on the O'Connell-Dolan scandal. They began the campaign today by reiterating their demands that the case be reopened or that O'Connell's testimony be made public, a request steadfastly denied them to date. The scandal, they intimate, will not be allowed to grow cold.

Some of the foremost critics in the world of sport are lined up behind this idea.

Let this attitude be misunderstood, the statement is made that the integrity of the men at the head of baseball is not questioned. Baseball at its foundation is honest but baseball has been known to guess wrong before.

One of the two guilty players, O'Connell, not only involved Dolan in his statement but the entire Giant team, particularly Frisch, Young and Kelly.

Baseball has given no adequate reason for accepting O'Connell's statement in regard to Dolan and declining it in regard to the others. It simply pointed out that Dolan had "acted" in a guilty manner when questioned and the others had not.

O'Connell has disappeared from his hotel leaving no forwarding address. It is presumed that he has departed for his home in California, taking his side of the scandal with him. Dolan is still about his Broadway haunts but apparently has nothing further to say.

Only Judge Landis remains on the ground to reopen the issue.

Union College Trounces K. H. S.

Local High School Eleven Unable to Score Against Schenectady Freshmen Saturday at Schenectady—Final Score 33 to 0.

The Kingston High School Football team was blanked at the hands of the Union College Freshmen eleven at Schenectady Saturday, score 33 to 0. The superiority of the upstate team was noticeable from the start of the contest.

Early in the second quarter the Union team started a smashing attack which the locals tried desperately to check. In this quarter two touchdowns were made. K. H. S. eleven only once threatened its opponents' goal. Shortly after the first kick off, Rosenzweig got away with a long pass from Tetley, which resulted in a 40 yard gain. Running with only an open field ahead of him, but limping on his injured right foot, Rosenzweig was downed by one of the Union's deer halfbacks. Union tightened her defense under the shadow of her own goal posts, and Tetley was forced to kick a short punt.

It did not take long to see that the Kingston lads were facing a powerful eleven. The game was marred by only one penalty which cost Union 15 yards. After the game was over the Union coach paid the local eleven a tribute well worth mentioning. He said "You have the cleanest and hardest tacklers of any prep. school I have seen in several years." Union had a well coached aerial attack, which proved a big advantage. A fumbled punt picked up by a sly end resulted in a touch down for Union in the third quarter. In this period Union added two more goals.

Bill O'Reilly one of the big factors in the locals' defense received a strained nerve in his left shoulder, during the early part of the second quarter and had to be replaced by John Byrne, who filled the big boys shoes in fine style.

Union had a swift and smashing offense which shot through Kingston's line time and again to be stopped by Tetley in the secondary defense. Union had a big squad and at the least signs of weakness a new man was substituted. Dennis the Union right halfback hitting the line like a battering-ram, and a deadly stiff arm proved a great asset to his eleven.

In the last quarter, several of the Kingston players were slightly injured. Another touchdown was made in this quarter.

Western Elevens Feature Contests

All Ten Members of Western Conference Teams Show Strength—Cornell's Defeat Big Sensation in East and Nebraska's in Far West.

By Telegram to The Freeman

New York, Oct. 13.—Defeats of the Navy and Cornell, a scoreless tie for Princeton, Yale's last period victory over Georgia and evidence of combined strength shown by Western conference teams were the outstanding features of Saturday's football returns. In the latter case, all ten members gave evidence of strength for the first time in years.

Iowa and Ohio state remained in the running by playing a scoreless tie, the heat hampering their offensives. Illinois showed a return to its 1923 form by running wild through Butler; Michigan did what was expected of it by beating Michigan Aggies by one touchdown; Minnesota beat Haskell, 20 to 0 and Northwestern continued its wild scoring at the expense of Cincinnati, running up 42 points.

Chicago also uncovered much power in defeating Brown, 19 to 7, while Indiana was defeated by Louisiana, 20 to 14, it gave an excellent account of itself. The Wisconsin Badgers, however, hit a form reversal after its showing in the first two games and got only a 7 to 7 tie with Coe.

In the east Cornell's defeat by Williams was the big sensation. It was the first defeat for the Ithacans since 1920. Princeton showed little in getting a scoreless tie with Lehigh. Yale held Georgia too lightly and had to show all it had to win, 7 to 6. The remainder of the games ran true to form.

In the far west, Nebraska furnished the big upset by finishing second to Oklahoma, 14 to 7.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them with Croomulion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Croomulion is a new medical discovery with double action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the most healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after a cold or the flu. Money refunded if any cold or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Croomulion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

MEN AND WOMEN IN THE NEWS SPOTLIGHT.

Mrs. Asa G. Chandler, Betty Brown, Leopold Godowsky, and Charlie Wax.

Mrs. Asa G. Chandler, Sr., estranged young wife of Atlanta, Ga., "Coca Cola King," suffered a nervous breakdown as the result of an automobile accident in which her car struck and probably fatally injured a five-year-old girl. Betty Brown, recently a Broadway dancing girl, kept her marriage in New York City to wealthy George Ellis Widmer, manufacturer, a secret for a year and eight months. When she revealed it, she said she would not trade her happy married life for all the stage fame in the world. Leopold Godowsky, noted pianist, returning to New York from European tour, declared jazz was a revelation in rhythm and was of the right sort. He will incorporate jazz music in his programmes. With fawn colored spalls and the nilfish clothing ever, Charlie Wax, of many aliases, was picked up by New York City police, with $12,000 in loose change in his clothes and $8,000 worth of diamonds on his fingers.

THE DOUBLE ALARM

THE BANKER'S CREED

I believe no man can be a good banker who is not first a good citizen—in all the term implies. I believe good citizenship rests on ability and willingness to pull one's own weight—with capacity not only for sturdy self-help—but also due regard for the rights of others. I believe that the more points at which we touch human nature and human interests the more alive we become and the longer we stay so. I believe we cannot prosper by applying yesterday's obsolete methods to today's each man is in some measure master of his community's destiny—that good government is a matter of business—not politics—that to assist in all material, moral and spiritual upbuilding, is the fundamental of enlightened selfishness. I believe we need more men of every class who will appreciate this—who will stand for something besides themselves. I believe in efficiency—service and fraternity—in a close-knit community of interest and hopes—in a sane, broad-visioned stand that shall make for the banker-citizen, the banker-businessman, the banker-farmer and the banker-everybody.—State Bank Division, American Bankers Association.

BANKERS FOR BETTER FARMING

The Arkansas Bankers Association was recently presented with an object lesson on the value of good live stock and the worthlessness of the scrub stock common on too many farms. The Arkansas College of Agriculture had three cows comfortably quartered in a corner of the lobby at the convention hotel in Little Rock. One cow displayed was a purebred Jersey which made a profit of $85 last year, a second was a high grade cow, the product of a purebred bull and a scrub cow. She made a profit of $58. The third cow was a common scrub cow, declared to be a detriment to Arkansas farming.

Pyrke Strives For Better Seed

Commissioner of Agriculture Warns Wholesalers to "Clean House" or the Public Will—Farmers Must Have Best.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Gross misrepresentations in sales of crop seed in New York state were disclosed at a conference held here yesterday by Bernice A. Pyrke, Commissioner of Agriculture. Fifteen representatives of wholesale seed houses attended the conference. The commissioner warned them: "If you don't clean up your own house and the public has to do it, the public will tear it down."

The commissioner's allegations were based on tests made by the state seed analyst, M. T. Munn, of the Geneva Experiment Station, which showed that, of 38 lots of clover and alfalfa seed sold to the state institution farm this year as hardy domestic seed, 15 lots contained imported seed, not adapted to New York winters. Commissioner Pyrke pointed out that the seriousness of the situation lay in the fact that similar frauds have doubtless been practiced on a great many New York farmers with consequent loss of crop.

Professor Frank P. Russell of the New York State College of Agriculture stated that tests made by the college specialists had proved conclusively that foreign grown clover seed will not give a crop under New York state conditions. He declared that in his opinion the way to meet the situation is for the seedsmen not to sell any imported seed in New York. This, those present at the conference refused to agree to.

Curtis Nye Smith of Boston, attorney for the American Seed Trade Association, stated that the grievance committee of that association will investigate any cases of misrepresentation.

"Good seed," said Commissioner Pyrke, "is the very foundation of agriculture." In not a few instances we have reason to believe that seed of southern and foreign origin were represented to the purchaser as of domestic and northern origin. I have confidence in the integrity of most business men. If there are abuses in any line of business it is up to the industry to clean house, because, if they do not, the public will when sufficiently aroused.

"The biggest farmer in New York is the state with its forty state institutions farms covering around 36,000 acres. Last fall this department asked for bids on seed, specifying domestic northern grown alfalfa and American grown red clover seed. Of the thirty-eight lots purchased, fifteen were procured by the seed laboratory at the Geneva experiment station to be imported."

"We are not concerned about the state contracts. The attorney general can take care of that. We are concerned for the small farmers of the state who haven't the facilities which the state has to protect their interests."

PHOENICIA. Phoenicia, Oct. 13.—The M. E. Aid voted to purchase a quantity of silver to use for supper and church socials. A kitchen fund is being added to for the purpose of building on the church a kitchen and social room.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. John Elvey and Mrs. Elting for serving ice cream and cake to the Aid Thursday at the meeting.

Adrian and Harriet Loomis entertained friends over the week-end. They enjoyed a trip to the tower and found the valley very pretty to view as the atmosphere was clear. The mountains looked very attractive in their beginning tints.

The city of New York ought to pay toward the damages caused by the water of the Esopus, which was called upon to carry off the Scholastic because of the city impounding this and connecting this with the reservoir system. The water rose rapidly and had a volume of force back of it which sent the Esopus climbing over its banks to the highest water mark. When we take into consideration that no snow was in the mountains to cause the gradual rise we realize what it means when a country is dammed. The rain fall ceasing and the portals being closed saved the bridges and it wasn't a minute too soon. Winter wood, lives of bees, chickens, eider vinegar went merrily on down stream.

The many friends of Mrs. Naught Delamater are sorry to learn of her illness and that she is still confined to her bed. Dr. Wolf is attending her. Mrs. Harry Brethaupt and little daughter Edna, are spending a week in Pittsburgh, Penn. Born to Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McGrath, a daughter.

Karl Townsend of Shandaken, was a caller in this place. Mr. Alshemer is convalescing in the Kingston City Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Leopold of Stamford, Conn., visited Mrs. A. P. Loomis. They enjoyed the mountain trip by car.

The Reformed Sunday school has made arrangements for a supper and Halloween party at the church on Friday evening, October 31. In addition to the supper there will be a fish pond, candy booth, sylvan fortune telling booth, apple dip or zraz, and a post office where Halloween cards and remembrances will be purchased and mailed to each other for the evening. These booths will all be in charge of the younger folks and they will be in costume. The names of those in charge will be withheld until after they unmask. The Rev. and Mrs. Braam and son were guests at Lake Minnewaska for supper Friday. Mr. Braam conducted a preaching service in the evening.

ROBIN'S MARKET BASKET

"Chirp, chirp," said little Mr. Robin. "I have as fine a market basket as any one could have."

"There are some who like to have a big basket to carry to the market."

"There are some who carry their food in cheek pouches."

"But I carry my food in my beak."

"To be sure you will say that the temptation to eat my food before I get home must be very great."

"You will say that when I carry a fat, juicy worm in my beak that I must surely want to eat him before I reach my nest."

"But if I do that I will get another and my market basket will be good and empty and ready for the second fat, juicy worm."

"Yes, you can see me hopping along here, and you can see that I have a worm in my beak."

"But I won't eat this one, as my tummy is well filled. I will take this home, and when Mrs. Robin says:

"Mr. Robin, were there good things to be had in the market today? I will show her this delicious worm."

"Oh, she will be pleased."

"She will say to me:

"Dear little Robin mate, what a good provider you are! What delicious things you do find when you go to the market!"

"Ah yes, I may be a big eater, but I am not greedy about my food."

"I like to share it with my family, and I give them the best."

"Mrs. Robin is the same way. She's an unselfish little dear, indeed she is."

"She will be waiting for me now, so I must hurry along."

"All right," said the Fairy Queen who had been talking to Mr. Robin, "hurry along, and will you give my love and kindest regards to Mrs. Robin?"

"Indeed I will," said Mr. Robin, "and gladly will I do that."

"She will be honored to receive such a message from no less a person than the Queen of the Fairies."

"But if I may be a very bold robin, may I say, that I think no one deserves such a message more than Mrs. Robin?"

"Just what I think," said the Queen of the Fairies.

"There are some," said Mr. Robin, "who complain that she is not the best housekeeper in the world. They say she lets the nest get so untidy and that she doesn't bother to have every straw just so.

"She doesn't say the minute I come home: 'Now wipe your feet carefully, Mr. Robin. Don't you dare enter the nest until you have done this.'"

"No, I can go right to the nest and there is no fuss and no bother."

"I can be just as comfortable as I wish. Ah yes, I'd rather have a sweet-natured little mate than the best housekeeper in all the world."

"What do I care if she doesn't dust the furniture? What do I care if she doesn't go around picking up all the time?"

"She's a comfort, that's what she is, for she makes a robin mate feel so at home."

"She doesn't make me feel as though home were no place for me unless I am very careful of the straw furniture and the mud carpet."

"A little more mud pleases her if anything."

"But dear me, here I am talking about how wonderful she is, and I am not getting home in a hurry."

"Good by, good Fairy Queen. Chirp, chirp, good-by."

And off went little Mr. Robin with a worm in his mouth for his dear loving little mate who was waiting eagerly for him at home, and who would greet him with a nice little robin peck and without any scoldings about his muddy feet.

They were a trifle muddy, too! But in his beak he carried a fine worm for Mrs. Robin's own supper.

It is a wise plan to budget one's canned fruit and vegetables, making a note of the amount used during the season and the supply left over, thus the family may enjoy the favorite fruits and vegetables, spreading them over the weeks when fresh things are not to be bought, and have plenty to last until spring.

MORE THINGS FOR WINTER

If you have an abundance of small, tender carrots, cold pack a few jars of them for winter use.

Scrape them, boil five minutes and plunge them into cold water, then fill quart jars. Cover with boiling water, add one teaspoonful of salt. Put on new rubbers, partially seal and boil one and one-half hours in water.

to well cover the tops of the jars. Tie move and seal immediately.

A simple mustard pickle which is easy to prepare and which will keep until the last cucumber, is prepared as follows:

Mustard Pickles.—Wash the cucumbers, and if gathered from one's own garden they may be added to the pickle daily, a few at a time. Take one cupful of dry mustard, one-half cupful of salt, and one-fourth cupful of sugar to one-half gallon of good vinegar. One may add spices if liked, and an onion or two for flavor. When all the cucumbers are in, put them into jars, cover with the pickling brine and seal. These are put up cold. The cucumbers never lose their fresh crispness and are always good. Use small-sized cucumbers for pickling; an inch in diameter is a good size.

Mixed Mustard Pickle.—Prepare five quarts of vegetables which may include cauliflower, separated into flowerets; small green tomatoes sliced, button onions, small whole cucumbers, or cut into inch slices, each one quart; one bunch of celery, six green peppers cut into shreds; butter beans and very small carrots if liked, may be added. Cover with cold water, adding one-half cupful of salt and let stand 24 hours. Bring to the boiling point and remove from the fire. Mix one cupful each of flour and mustard three table-spoonfuls of turmeric, one and one-half cups of sugar, and two quarts of vinegar; stir and cook until the flour is well cooked. Bring the mixture again to the boiling point in the boiler and put into jars, covering with the paste. Seal in sterilized jars.

When all the cucumbers are in, put them into jars, cover with the pickling brine and seal. These are put up cold. The cucumbers never lose their fresh crispness and are always good. Use small-sized cucumbers for pickling; an inch in diameter is a good size.

Republican Nominee for Assemblyman Well Qualified by Training and Practical Experience to Represent Ulster County's Varied Interests at Albany.

Millard Davis, the choice of the Republican party in Ulster county for member of assembly, is well known to the farmers, fruit growers and dairymen of the county through his activities as a director of the Ulster County Farm Bureau and the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association of Ulster county, which he helped to organize.

Mr. Davis is a son of Millard H. Davis and was born in the town of Olive, August 3, 1883. He attended the district school and later went to Hunter, Greene county, where he attended the Hunter High School. On leaving the latter school he became a teacher and for one year taught the district school at Woodstock.

When 15 years old, Mr. Davis entered the New York Law School, from which he was graduated in 1903, and in the following year, at the age of 21 years, was admitted to the bar. He worked in several New York city law offices for a time and then went to St. Louis, where he practiced for a short time, later going to Indian Territory, where he became seriously ill of typhoid, upon his recovery from which he returned to New York city. There he entered the employ of Cravath & Henderson, one of the largest law firms in New York, and for ten years was managing clerk of the firm.

While practicing law in New York city, Mr. Davis joined the Ulster County Farm Bureau, which had just been organized, and his practical interest in farming led him to purchase a farm near Kerhonkson, to which he moved after leaving Cravath & Henderson, and on which he has since resided. For the first two years of his farming life, Mr. Davis did not leave the farm for a single day, and by hard work he has made his farm one of the most productive in that section of the Rondout valley.

Realizing the benefits to producer and consumer of cooperative agricultural organizations, Mr. Davis helped to organize the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association of Ulster county and was one of the most active workers in the campaign by which funds were raised to establish the Accord cooperative plant, which since has been taken over by the Dairymen's League and is conducted with satisfaction to producers and consumers.

Mr. Davis's only memberships are in the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, of which he is a director, and the Ulster County Farm Bureau, in which he has rendered valuable service as an officer and member of the executive committee. He has always been an active Republican and at different times has represented his district as a delegate to the Republican county convention.

If You're an American You Will See

"America"

YOU that have suffered for years—a thousand
YOU that have embittered the earth with your tears.
YOU that have wept by the wailing walls of Jerusalem; and the cruel nations of the earth have made you take these walls with you wherever you journey, so that your bitter tears have watered the lands of the world, from east to west.
YOU that have found in the land of AMERICA at least a better shelter than in any other land, not perfect; no, not perfect, but at least better than before.
COME and see how this country that has given you shelter was made.
SEE how it, with its precious freedom, was gained through tears and sacrifice and sorrow.
COME for you will find there laughter, tremendous thrills, and you will see the great sacrifices of the first Americans, their sorrows and triumphs and you will see how they wailed by their walls of mourning at Valley Forge, Lexington and Bunker Hill, and how they, the first Americans, arose to the tremendous heights that you have risen to.
THE country they made, they made for all.
THIS country is now yours as well as theirs.
YOU must help keep it that the lights of freedom may not die out.
HELP to keep this land of America free from intolerance, from hatred; a refuge for all the oppressed forever and ever; your land, the land of all people.

Says astute Mr. Martin, critic of the World: "Finest play ever made." Says Miss Harriette Underhill of the Tribune: "The finest story ever screened." Says Mr. Colgate Baker: "Easily the screen's greatest achievement."

The U. S. Army blimp TC-2, largest non-rigid airship in the United States, was destroyed in the air and several members of her crew were injured when a bomb she was carrying to manoeuvres at Langley Field, Va., exploded at Newport News, Va. Five Win Prizes In Chevrolet Run Guessers Tie on First and Third Prizes for Nearest Guess to Mileage in 100-Hour Run, Which Was 2,852 Miles.

The Chevrolet touring car entered in the 100-mile non-stop endurance and economy run by Sutliff, Inc., is now on display in the show rooms after completing the run Saturday noon with a total mileage of 2,852 miles with a total gasoline consumption of 97 1/2 gallons. In the 100-hour run the Chevrolet car covered approximately the same number of miles which the United States dirigible Shenandoah already has covered in its cross-country flight. However, the Shenandoah arrived at the west coast in need of repairs which required several hours, while the Chevrolet car was apparently ready to start out again on another 100-hour grind.

In the 100-hour run which included trips into different parts of Ulster and Greene counties, the Chevrolet car, which had already been run 11,844 miles before the run was begun, made an average of 29.12 miles per gallon of gasoline and used four quarts of oil, or 708 miles per quart of oil.

The entire run was officially checked by the Ulster County Automobile Club under whose direction the run was made, and each gallon of gasoline and each quart of oil was officially measured before it was put in the tank. The run was started Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock and the car was run continuously for 100 hours, the engine not being stopped once during the entire time. The speedometer was sealed and at no time was the number of miles covered made known during the run. When the run was completed at noon Saturday the speedometer was removed by the Automobile Club observer and the car which made the run was exhibited about town during the afternoon until 6 o'clock when it was placed on the floor of the show rooms of Sutliff, Inc., where at 8 o'clock the reading of the speedometer was made.

In connection with the run a guessing contest was conducted and for this reason the mileage from day to day was not made known. Prizes were offered persons who guessed nearest the total number of miles which the car would cover in the 100-hour test. For first prize there were two who guessed the same mileage, Albert Soper, a member of the police motorcycle squad, who resides at 8 Park avenue and William Thompson of New Paltz both guessed the same mileage and therefore both are awarded prizes. Their guess was 2,827 miles and the prize in each case is a $75 allowance on the purchase price of a new Chevrolet car.

Dan O'Meara of 84 Cedar street was second in the contest with a guess of 2,825 miles. His prize is a $50 allowance.

For third prize there was also a tie. Mrs. Emery Hasbrouck of New Paltz, guessed 2,843 miles and Leonard Hamm of 39 Second avenue this city guessed 2,816 miles. One guessed 16 miles more than the car covered and the other 16 miles less. The prizes for third guess was an allowance of $25 on the purchase of a new car. In all over two hundred guesses were received, ranging all the way from 1,100 miles to 3,700 miles.

During the run only two drivers were used by Mr. Sutliff, each driving in 6 hour shifts. With the drivers, Doyle Sutliff and Emmett Aldrich, at all times was an observer.

During the run one quart of water was used in the radiator.

A total of 1 hour and 12 minutes was lost during the 100 hours for change of drivers and filling with oil and gasoline. A flat tire, traffic blockades and time out for repairing a spring hanger caused a loss of 1 hour and 56 minutes. During all this time however the motor, was kept running.

Farm and Home Bureau Festivity

Both Stone Ridge and Kerhonkson Farm and Home Bureau people, friends, and neighbors are making plans for two rousing good times the latter half of this week. On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock Stone Ridge Grange Hall will be the scene of the first big time. The program calls for an evening of laughter, play, exercise and good eats. Chairman Ashton H. Hart and Mrs. Hardinburg of Stone Ridge announce a home talent production of "Joshing the Janitor," a mixture of black and white faced high class comedy; a solid hour of games for grown ups, a few minutes review of Farm and Home Bureau work in the community, the election of local 1925 committee, followed by refreshments and more games if contestants feel able.

Chairmen Chester Gray and Mrs. Freer of Kerhonkson have arranged a similar program for Kerhonkson and vicinity on Friday, October 17, at the K. of P. Hall, Kerhonkson. Considerable time has been given by both committees in arranging the programs for the evenings and a large attendance is expected.

The committees wish especially to emphasize the fact that these meetings are for both members and non-members.

Card of Thanks.

We desire in this manner to express our most sincere and heartfelt thanks to our many relatives, friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the bereavement of our beloved husband and father, John Maurer. We also wish to thank all who sent the beautiful floral tributes, especially the Dwyer Brothers, Ship Carpenters Union No. 251, the Hasbrouck Engine Co. and the employees of the Fuller Shirt Co. and MRS. JOHN MAURER AND FAMILY.

Special Demonstration of Gossard Corsets

Mme. Bowles, who has a thorough knowledge of corsetry, will be with us Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, to demonstrate and fit Gossard Corsets.

Women who take most pride in their appearance, appreciate Gossards

"Never again without a corset," women daily say to us—"why I look years older after one season without a corset."

Fortunately Gossards are as comfortable as they are effective. The front lace, the soft straight front which gives a flat abdomen without any restriction over digestive organs—a perfect back line—these are only a few of the many Gossard advantages.

Corsets and Brassieres

For example, look at Model 228, a slightly boned corset for the woman of slight figure. It has a low elastic top measuring one and one-half inches above the waistline, and a two-inch section of elastic in the back. Skirt is medium short. Brassiere 1540, a longline, is made of pink tulle with elastic sections at side. Reinforced front section gives excellent diaphragm control. Model 789 is for the stout figure. Extremely low under the bust and at the front, graduating to a medium high back. Curved section under bust gives comfort when seated. Elastic section in back and thigh assure perfect freedom of movement.

Wonderful values

We have a wide variety of different priced models in each of the nine ideal figure types. Our experienced corsetiers will be glad to assist you to find your type.

Four unique families live in Hanover, Pa. Four Stonesifer brothers there married four Stonesifer sisters. Although the names are identical, the families are not related. William G. Stonesifer was married to Gertrude Stonesifer in 1915. In 1917 Harry Raymond Stonesifer was married to Gertrude Stonesifer. The youngest of the Stonesifers became Mrs. Ollis P. Stonesifer in September of this year. There are two more Stonesifer brothers and two more sisters, and Rev. J. W. Reinecke, pastor of the Bachman's Valley Lutheran Church, performed all the ceremonies, expects to perform two more ere long.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

MRS. ELIZABETH FRY

was the first of the modern prison reformers to gain real results in the amelioration of the conditions under which convicts live. She died at Ramsgate, Eng., seventy-nine years ago today.

John Howard and many other philanthropists in Europe and America, had previously agitated prison reforms of various kinds, but their labors were practically fruitless, and a woman, Mrs. Fry, was the first to get real results. She became interested in the work in 1813, as a result of a visit paid to the famous—or rather infamous English prison at Newgate. Her compassionate Quaker heart was filled with pity at the sad state of the inmates, especially the women prisoners.

Her first success was the establishment of a school for women convicts. Other reforms followed, and Newgate, thanks to her efforts, soon underwent a marked change. She then extended her field of activities to other prisons, making her influence felt in Europe and America, as well as in England.

"STAR ROUTE" TRIALS.

One of the most remarkable cases in the history of American criminal jurisprudence—the famous "Star Route" trials—is recalled by the fact that just 108 years ago today, Benjamin Harris Brewster, who was attorney general of the United States in the early '80s, was born. He was in charge of the prosecution of those accused of conspiring to defraud the government in connection with mail carrying contract. Brewster was born in Salem, N. J., October 13th, 1816, graduated from Princeton, became attorney general of Pennsylvania in 1867, and of the United States in 1881. He was opposed in the Star trials by one of the most brilliant lawyers who ever pleaded a case in American court—Robert G. Ingersoll—who not only received no fees, but had to pay out thousands of dollars in expenses himself. The first trial resulted in a "mixed verdict" and was set aside, the second trial, lasting over six months, resulted in the acquittal of the defendants. Brewster, although a lawyer of great ability, could not compete with the silver-tongued Ingersoll.

POLITICAL ECONOMY.

The first American writer to formulate a new school of political economy was Henry Charles Carey, who died in Philadelphia 45 years ago today. He was born in the Quaker City in 1793, and was the son of a publisher. He succeeded to the business, and after acquiring a competence, devoted the remainder of his life to science and knowledge. His "Essay on the Rate of Wages" published in 1836, and "The Principles of Political Economy" brought out a few years later, won for the author an authoritative international reputation as a political economist. The school of P. E., of which he was the founder, took him on a much more cheerful character than that of Ricardo and Malthus. The latter claimed that over-population was the great evil confronting the world. It seemed logical for an Englishman to have such a pessimistic view, and it was natural that Carey, citizen of a country with vast undeveloped tracts of land, should hold the opposite view—which he did.

Mrs. Mabel Gilman Corey, divorced wife of the American ex-convict magnate, was at one time reported engaged in Paris to Prince Luis Ferdinand of Spain, who has been deported from France and whose honors have been taken from him by the King of Spain, whose cousin he is, because of his indiscretions. M. Stalin, Soviet Minister of Nationalists, has been stabbed in the shoulder in Moscow by a Georgian named Henschel, who then killed himself. J. Havelock Wilson, president of the International Seafarers' Federation, with a membership of 2,000,000 sailors, has arrived in New York to discuss the rights of seamen with the immigration authorities of the United States. Vicente Bascas Ibanez, author of the "Four Horsemen," "Blood and Sand" and other famous novels, has bitterly attacked King Alfonso of Spain, declaring the "degenerate Alfonso," and not the military dictatorship, is to blame for Spanish catastrophes in the Moroccan war.

PRINCESS MARY'S SECOND SON.

ULICK DAVID LASCELLES, second son of Princess Mary, only daughter of the British ruler, who was christened a few days ago at Goldborough (England) Church. The naming of the child is said to have caused a breach with her royal parents, who were not present at the christening.
